

David H. Borden, age 55, of Austin, Texas, passed away unexpectedly on Friday May 21, 2004.

David was born August 15, 1948, to Frank K. and Marie C. Borden, in Amarillo Texas. After graduating from Tascosa High School in 1966, he moved to Dallas, Texas, where he attended The Dallas Institute of Mortuary Science and worked for Dudley M. Hughes Funeral Home. He moved to Austin in 1972 to become a licensed peace officer, serving with the Austin Police Department for 25 years.

He was preceded in death by his father, Frank K. Borden in 1994.

He is survived by three daughters, Carrie Ann Borden of Austin, Renae Christine Siler of Round Rock, Kimberlee Jean Carpenter-McKinnerney and husband, Adam of Duncanville; and one son, James Garrett Carpenter of Nacogdoches; mother, Marie C. Borden; and brother, Michael N. Borden and wife, Debbie all of Austin; David also had three beautiful grandchildren who were the "light of his life", Duston Lee Siler and Auston Garrett Borden-Siler of Round Rock and Kaylee Jean McKinnerney of Duncanville.

David was an avid Texas Longhorns fan, including being a part of the "Wild Bunch" and without a doubt bleeding orange. He attended every game possible rain or shine, also taking his oldest grandson, Duston, to most of the games with him. No matter what obstacle came his way, he faced all of his health problems with a smile and an attitude of "Oh well" and lived life to the fullest. He was the most selfless person you could ever meet, making a positive impact on everyone who crossed his path.

Services were held Wednesday May 26, 2004, at All Faiths Funeral Home to celebrate David's life. A special fund has been set up in his honor, for his grandchildren and the family requests contributions be made to: Carrie A.
